

BIOGRAPHICAL INFORMATION

DANIEL L. LIPPE

Mr. Daniel Lippe received a B.S. degree in Chemical Engineering from Texas A&M University in 1974 and a M.B.A. from Houston Baptist University in 1981. He began his professional career in 1974 with Diamond Shamrock Chemical Company.

Mr. Lippe left Diamond Shamrock in 1979 to begin his consulting career. He has more than 30 years professional consulting experience in providing services to clients in the oil & gas, refining, petroleum products, midstream, and petrochemicals industries. He founded Petral Consulting Company in 1988 and co-founded Petral Worldwide with Jim Cutler in 1993. Petral Consulting Company focuses on providing short-term and long-term market and economic analysis and price forecasts for natural gas, crude oil and refined products, natural gas liquids, and primary petrochemicals to a diverse group of industry clients and government agencies.

Petral Worldwide, Inc. focuses on providing consulting services to clients in support of business development activities, strategic planning support, and international economic analyses for various petroleum products. Petral Worldwide also conducts educational seminars that focus on the Midstream Industry and the Ethylene Industry in North America.

Mr. Lippe also authors an ongoing series of articles for the Oil & Gas Journal. These articles focus on developments and markets trends in propane, petrochemical feedstocks and primary olefins.
